

UNECE

Guidance on Data Integration for Measuring Migration

UNITED NATIONS

Table of Contents

Preface	iii
1. Introduction	1
2. Definition of “data integration”	3
2.1 General features	3
2.2 Working definition	4
3. Survey on data integration practices	6
3.1 Overview of the main results of the survey	6
3.2 Recommendations	7
3.3 Summary of results	7
4. Case studies	8
4.1 Case studies of countries with population registers	8
4.1.1 Austria	8
4.1.2 Hungary	10
4.1.3 Israel	12
4.1.4 Italy	14
4.1.5 Latvia	17
4.1.6 Netherlands	19
4.1.7 Spain	21
4.1.8 Switzerland	25
4.2 Case studies of countries without population registers	28
4.2.1 Australia	28
4.2.2 Canada	29
4.2.3 New Zealand	31
4.2.4 United Kindgom	36
4.2.5 United States of America	39
4.3 Summary	40
5. Metadata	43
6. Conclusions	45

7. Recommendations	46
7.1 Improve access to administrative data for national statistical offices	46
7.2 Use administrative data for migration statistics.....	46
7.3 Combine data from different sources using ‘presence signals’	46
7.4 Pay attention to the quality of integrated data.....	46
7.5 Be transparent about data integration methods used and develop standards	47
7.6 Promote international comparison and exchange of migration data.....	47
8. Further work.....	48
8.1 The potential of big data.....	48
8.2 Longitudinal data	48
9. References.....	49

List of Figures

Figure 4.1	Data sources for annual Hungarian population calculation	11
Figure 4.2	Monthly presence scheme of continuity patterns in job and study activities	16
Figure 4.3	Foreign population in Spain according to the population register 1998-2010 (millions)	22
Figure 4.4	New Zealand usual resident count of overseas born population	34
Figure 4.5	Percentage overseas born of New Zealand population	34
Figure 4.6	Calculation of Long-Term International Migration	38

List of Tables

Table 4.1	Process scheme and counts of population groups (in thousands) according to their likelihood of being usually resident in Italy	16
Table 4.2	Doubtful records in the 2011 pre-census file. Selected nationalities	24
Table 4.3	Doubtful population in the pre-census file group by nationality-province-age	25
Table 4.4	International migration data collections and processing	33